A WELCOME SHOWER

Wind, Lightning and Rain
Bring Relief from Heat.

HOUSE DAMAGED BY LIGHTNING.

Burnt Struck and Burned Near This City—Crashed Pavilion at Midway
Park in Total Darkness—Look
Half-Hour for some People.

Relief from the sweltering heat was afforded, Monday evening, by a thunder shower which came up so quickly from the west that it broke upon this city almost before people realized that it was coming.

The storm was preceded by a high wind, which swept the dust before it; clouds, vivid lightning and crashing thunder accompanied the storm and for a time the rain came down in sheets.

The thermometer began falling with almost the first puff of wind, and by the time the storm was over the air was cool and bracing. The change was most welcome, for the intense heat and great humidity of the day were telling on all human kind.

In the early evening, many people boarded the cars for Midway Park knowing that the ride would cool them off and when the storm broke the pavilion was crowded. When the lightning flashes became frequent the engines at the power house were shut down as a precautionary measure and, of course, all the electric lights at the park went out. A puff of wind set the big kerosene lamp which hangs in the centre of the pavilion on fire.

I blazed up in a most alarming way for several moments before Superintendent Garrison was able to get it down and throw it out of the building. When this was done the pavilion was in total darkness. Some people didn't mind—in fact they rather enjoyed it, but there were others who didn't enjoy the situation even a little bit and to them the half hour that elapsed before the lights were again turned on was a very long half-hour indeed.

HOUSES STRUCK ON BENEATH THEM.

The residence of George Print, No. 151 South street, was struck by lightning, about eight o'clock. The chimney was demolished and several large holes torn in the roof.

Mrs. Print and her children were in the dining room when the bolt struck the house, and were considerably frightened. The building was not set on fire but considerable damage resulted from the rain which poured in through the hole in the roof.

FLOYD RIVER BANK BURNED.

The barn on the river at Floyd River, situated on the road between the Mount Hope turnpike and Kirbytown about three miles west of this city, was struck by lightning, during the storm of Monday night, and was completely destroyed by the fire, which followed, together with all the contents, which included all the newly harvested crops. No live stock was lost. The barn was insured for $800 in the Hanover Insurance Co. through the agency of Case & Taylor.

HOUSE STRUCK AT PINE BUSH.

At Pine Bush, there was not very much rain, but the wind was very high and there was a great deal of vivid lightning.

The chimney of Silas C. Howell's house was struck and the whole upper part of the chimney was knocked off. The lightning followed the chimney down and entered the rooms, literally filling them with blue fire.

A New York man, who was boarding in the house, was so badly shocked that he was completely dazed, and, this morning, had not entirely recovered from the effects of the shock. The house was not much damaged, but all its fixtures were more or less broken.

Elijah Taylor, who was sitting in the window of his house across the street, got much of the shock that he was literally turned around in his chair.

The falling bricks from the chimney of the Howell house crashed through the glass in Mrs. Howell's hot house, doing some damage.

It is thought that lightning, after following the chimney down almost to the ground, leaped a large iron rod in one of the green houses, which was used to raise the sash. At all events this rod was torn from the sockets in which it was securely fastened. No other damage was done, however, and where the lightning went after leaving the rod is not known.

AT THOMPSON RIDGE.

A locust tree, which stood only a few feet from the residence of Alex Thompson, at Thompson Ridge, was struck and splintered. The shock was very plainly felt by the family who were in the house.

A cow belonging to Mr. Thompson was struck and killed in a field some distance from the house.

FLOWER-DECDED WAGONS.

ANNUAL PARADE OF THE BLOOMINGBROUGH
COACHING CLUB—Many Beautifully Decorated Buses.

The Bloomingbrough Coaching Club is holding its annual parade, today. Very elaborate preparations for the event had been made and a large number of beautifully decorated vehicles were in line. Those who have seen all the former parades of the club are agreed that the decorations were never as elaborate as they are this year.

The parade attracted a very large number of spectators who came by rail, by wagon and on their wheels.

Music was furnished by the O. and W. band, of this city, the Wurtsboro band and the Burlington band.

Death of an Actress in State Hospital.

Belle Vivian, formerly a well known actress, died at the State Hospital in this city, Monday. She had been in the institution since May, suffering from dementia. She was thirty-five years of age and twenty-six years of her life had been spent on the stage. The remains were shipped to New York, to day, in care of the Actors' Fund. The interment will take place at Evergreens Cemetery, Wednesday.

Saved from the Surgeon's Knife

No organs are of greater importance to the human body than the kidneys. Their duty is to filter and strain the poisons and waste matter from the blood, and if they fail to do their trouble shows in the nervous system, and even in the brain. Your life is at stake when there are pains in the small of your back—when you are compelled to get up at night to urinate—when the passing of water causes scalding pain—when there is a sediment in the urine in the vessel, & when it appears white or milky. When so afflicted, you can conquer the trouble with Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, the greatest medicine that exists in the world known for curing kidney, bladder, blood, & liver diseases.

James Lester of Canajoharie, N.Y., tells of his wonderful cure. Some years ago I was attacked with pains in my back and sides that were so fearful I could not sit up in my chair. I saw an ad for Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which seemed to me to be the best. I sent for it and the two bottles cost me $1.00. I had no money to pay for the two bottles, so I sold my coat and the price of the coat paid for the two bottles. I have been well ever since. I am now a healthy man and the doctor has given me a favorable report. I would like to thank Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which has saved me from a short illness.

Favorite Remedy
Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy
is a concentrated extract of the bark of the Davidia Involucrata, a tree that grows in the mountains of China. It is a powerful tonic and astringent, and is especially useful in the treatment of kidney and bladder diseases. It is also useful in the treatment of rheumatism, gout, and other diseases of the joints. It is a safe and effective remedy, and is recommended by many physicians.

SHOTS HERE AND THERE.

John Berkley is in Kingston jail as the result of a contentious spirit and an experiment in cooperative farming with his wife and mother-in-law who also seems to have him a bit contentious. They had a little money which they put together and bought a small farm at Marlborough, the title to which was put in the wife's name. For a time things went smoothly and then John seems to have tried to run things, ditto the wife, ditto the mother-in-law. At last the wife seems to have sided with her mother and decided the place to her. Then John's troubles began and his contentiousness developed. When told to do certain things he would do something else just to show that he wouldn't be bossed by women. One morning when he came in from milking he was told to go for water. He said "not the water I bring but earlier had been captured out for no other reason than that he might be ordered to go for more and on principle he refused. Having no water he washed in the milk to the great wrath of his wife and mother-in-law but lost the suit in to judgment. When he got out he demanded his furniture. They told him to come and get it. He did so and they locked the door and he kicked it in and the loving couple sent him back to jail.

The city and county women and the convalescent who were mentioned in the columns Monday come to town as usual that afternoon. They were no company. This a small boy who soon tired of roaming the city's streets and returned to where the horse was tied, limbed into the wagon, curled himself up on the seat and was soon sound asleep. That way of sleeping is an infantile habit of many, and it was done but who saw the sleeping boy wonder'd why he had to stay in the farm wagon, his sleeping moderate instead of in the city schools still.

It is a fact that the colonial office has been aware of the nature of the Indian's reply for some days and it was communicated to the war office before it met the Great Britain will demand the documents as little as possible.

A high colonial official frankly expressed his disgust of what he termed "Knavery and hypocrisy." He said to our representative:

The kind of game which he is playing must be fair to Americans. The representations of the Boers that they wish to live a quiet agricultural life may be the true story of the country after the war in Pretoria is finally settled.

High President Kruger says many harsh things of the burghers he never hesitated to make an actor of them either for or foul means.

This Transvaal question cannot be judged by recent experience. You must look 30 years. It has been hanging over since, and the sooner it is settled the better.

Though the fact did not actually say so it was clear that he believed war was the only method of settlement.

It is indeed that the government is somewhat annoyed at the pull at a slight interest in the Transvaal. The above is intended offend said. Dresden seems the only thing our people think about the South African in its most serious sense. This indifference is perhaps typical.

A special dispatch from Cape Town says the great danger of an intervention of Great Britain in the Transvaal and that the sum of South Africa are in the throes of the civil war and are being fought by Transvaal and Boer on both sides.

LIVE LOCAL TOPICS.

- O. and W. Mary Powell excursion, to-morrow.
- Lawn festival of the Surprise H. & L. tonight, on the Berry property.
- Walkill Comet, No. 42, Jr. O. & A. M. picnic at Mamercher Park, to-night.

- An unknown middle-aged man was prostrated by heat in Newburgh, Monday.
- A number of people drove to Bloomingburgh, to-day, to attend the racing parade.

- The whole performance of "A Black Sheep" is spoken of as unusually a cyclone of fun.
- The furniture stores of C. E. Crawford and France & Hathaway were closed, this afternoon, while the funeral of J. R. Van Duzer was being held.

- In order to raise $1,000, with which to pay low-street paving, Norwich will try a popular loan, and offers for sale 130 bonds of $100 each.

- A horse belonging to grocerian Chas. Keener started to run away at Franklin Square this morning, but was caught before any damage had been done.
- Try our delicious brick cream, 30 cents per quart only. Delivered free by LASKINS, 34 North street. dtb

- There is a full apple crop throughout the section of the country bordering on the Jersey line. Very nice early varieties are daily marketed here by farmers of that locality.
- Elmer E. Vance's repertoire company, which will play in three nights' engagement at the Casino, Aug. 28, 29 and 30, will present "The Limited Mail," "Patent Applied For," and "Queen of the Circus."

- Monday night I ran cleaned the paved streets in a very satisfactory manner, and in a very short time a vast improvement over the publisizing methods employed by Commissioner Reed's "white wings."

- Several theatre parties have been formed to see "A Black Sheep," and the advance sale of seats has assumed such proportions as to insure for the "Black Sheep" one of the largest and most fashionable audiences of the season.

- If you intend to be a business man, get a business education at the Rensselaer School of Business and Shortland, 25 North street, Middletown.

- If you want to find anybody, Wednesday night, the place to look for them will be at the Casino, for judging by the unusual interest taken in the coming on of Hoyt's roaring success "A Black Sheep" and by the heavy demand for seats in advance, everybody will be at the first presentation in this city of that popular comedy.

- Women's Soft Kid Oxford, with flexible sole, common sense or none too, at $1.25 per pair. Solid comfort for old and tender to fit. 51 North street.

- EDWARD A. VANSLYKE,
